JOHN RICE HANNA

Prominent Piano Tuner Dies in the Good Samaritan Hospital in Lexington—Was Well Known in This City.

Word has been received here of the death of Mr. John Rice Hanna of Lexington in the Good Samaritan Hospital in that city yesterday morning after being ill for some time.

Mr. Hanna was 69 years of age. He was well known in this city, visiting here about twice a year in order to tune pianos for various people in the city and neighborhood. He made many friends in this city and county and all will regret to hear of his death.

Mr. Hanna leaves a widow, Mrs.
Mary E. Hanna and one son, Mr.
Oscar T. Hanna, both of Lexington, a daughter, Mrs. James T. Bates of Portsmouth, Ohio. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. James Holton and Miss Susan I. Hanna of Dover, Mason county, and a brother, Mr. Charles W.
Hanna of New Orleans, La.

The body was taken to Ironton, Ohio, where the burial will be held in the family lot in Woodland Cemetery.
Services will be held at the grave.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Second M. E. Church, South, will meet with Mrs. Joseph Wells Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

MRS. ANN JANE WARE

A message to relatives in this city brought news of the death of Mrs.
Ann Jane Ware of Kansas City, Mo., at her home in that city Saturday, February 10.

Mrs. Ware was born in 1829 at Mayslick, and spent half of her life there. She leaves two sons, Joseph and Robert Lee Ware, and one daughter, Miss Bettie Ware, of Kansas City, another daughter, Mrs. L. Y. Browning of Mayslick, having died about fifteen years ago.

Mrs. Ware was a sister of the late Joshua B. Burgess of this city and will be remembered by the older members of the community, as a woman of the most lovable Christian character. She was buried in Kansas City Monday, February 12.

GOOD TOBACCO

When it comes to raising tobacco our friend Charley Galbraith of the Mayslick neighborhood, is always in the front rank. Tuesday at the Growers he sold 1415 pounds for which he received the nice sum of $302.25, an average of $21.36 per hundred. This tobacco was raised on less than an acre of ground.

C. & O. STATION

Is One of the Greatest Needs of This City—Maysville Slammed by Gentleman That Passed Through Here.

A very good example of the detrimental advertising which Maysville is now receiving, in all parts of the country, on account of our present Chesapeake and Ohio passenger station is shown by the experience of a Maysville citizen who was traveling in the state of Florida recently.

He happened to be seated on the train with an old friend and during the conversation our townsman in a voice of pride made the statement that he was living in Maysville, Kentucky. The other turned in surprise and said: "You surely can't mean Maysville, Kentucky? I never stopped there but I passed through on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad once and never thought the town amounted to much judging from that excuse of a passenger station and its surroundings. Why don't you people, who have as you say so much to be proud of, get together with the railroad and get a decent railway entrance to the city?"

This is only one instance of many of a like nature. The opportunity is now presented to get a handsome passenger station. We don't need the end of Lower street as a river wharf now and it is an eyesore and a hindrance to progress and improvement. We are always talking about progress. Let's carry on our reputation as a progressive, wide awake city by giving the Chesapeake and Ohio permission to close this useless hole and take advantage of the offer of a new station while we can get it.

For the benefit of owners of pleasure craft it is believed that the Chesapeake and Ohio will construct a flight of steps down to the river bank to low water mark.

But let's get the new station.

FOUND BOOZE

Officer Dudley Bloomhuff yesterday afternoon conducted an investigation for the booze John "Turkey" Wright claimed that had been stolen from him after he had hidden it in the willows on the river bank. Wright was sent to jail for converting property of another to his own use. He claimed at the time that the whiskey he had purchased was hidden on the river bank. The officer found three gallons of whiskey hidden in an old barge. Upon his release from the present sentence he will be arrested for bootlegging.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY EN- TERTAINMENT

The entertainment to be given at the Washington High School on Washington's Birthday Thursday, February 22, promises to be a most interesting affair. A splendid program has been arranged for the evening. The State University Quartet with Miss Frances Geisel of this city as pianist will be one of the chief attractions. Mrs. Will B. Campbell will give several readings during the evening.

VALENTINE DAY

Today is Valentine's Day, a revival of an ancient Roman Feast. All men are wont on this day to present to their lady-love a token of regard. The day is always appropriately celebrated in Maysville and as usual there will be dances and parties all over the city. Several of the churches will have Valentine socials held by some department of the church. A dance will be held in the Neptune Hall.

ANNUAL INSPECTION

The Annual Inspection of Maysville Commandery No. 10, Knights Templar, took place in the Asylum last evening. Inspector General W. H. Bartholomew of Louisville, making the inspection. Quite a number of Sir Knights were present. The Red Cross and Templar Degrees were conferred on Mr. John H. Moore of this city.

DIES IN NEWPORT

Mr. John Tolle, formerly of this city, died at his home in Newport, Ky., yesterday. The body will be shipped to this city for burial. Mr. Tolle was 65 years of age. He was a laborer by trade. Heart trouble was the cause of his death.

ENTERTAINED WITH CARDS

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clarke Rogers of West Second street entertained with cards Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Augustus C. Respass of Lexington.

PRAYER MEETING

Prayer meeting will be held tonight at the Central Presbyterian Church at 7 o'clock.

CHIROPRACTIC, THE WONDERFUL NERVE SCIENCE

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the advertisement of George E.
Lambert, chiropractor, who has recently opened up beautiful office rooms in the O'Keefe building for the practice of his science. Chiropractic is a method of curing ailments by the proper adjustments of the nerves in the spinal and absolutely does away with drugs and surgery. Mr. Lambert has been located at Flemings-burg for some time but has been treating a number of patients in and near Maysville. From now on he will be at his office on Market street from 8 to 12 a. m. and at Flemingsburg in the afternoon.

SPLENDID LIGHTING ARRANGE- MENT

Manager Charles Triebel of the Pastime has installed a new system of lighting in his popular showhouse, the Pastime. Under the new arrangement the interior of the place become almost as light as day without affecting the pictures by making them dimmer. This arrangement is a very splendid one and helps to make the Pastime more attractive for the many patrons.

THE ELITE CONFECTIONERY

We are glad to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the Elite Confectionery to be found in another part of this paper. Since coming to Maysville several months ago Mr. James Bellas, the proprietor, has built up a very substantial trade and by the excellent service and courteous treatment to the customers will no doubt continue to please the Maysville public.

SELLS PAPER

Mr. M. O. Wilson of Vanceburg was in this city yesterday and paid this office a very pleasant visit. Mr. Wilson was on his way to Frankfort to attend a special session of the State Legislature. Mr. Wilson informed us that he sold his paper, the Vanceburg Sun, last week to Messrs. William Grote and son, Myron. The Vanceburg Sun is one of the best weekly papers in the State of Kentucky and we always welcome it to our exchange table. We regret to lose Mr. Wilson from the newspaper game and we welcome Mr. Grote and his son as members of the fourth estate. We wish them the best of success at the head of the Sun.

MRS. OMAR FLUHARTY

Mrs. Omar Fluharty died at her home in Manchester, Ohio, on Monday night following a short illness of blood poisoning. Mrs. Fluharty was formerly Miss Fannie Campbell of Aberdeen. She was a bride of only a few weeks, having married Mr. Fluharty at Newcastle, Ind. Mr. Fluharty is well known to Maysville people, having been an employee at the Lock and Dam No. 33 above the city last summer. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr.
Fluharty.

LOOK TO THE FUTURE

While rejoicing over the extraordinary prosperity which has come to this country as a result of the war in Europe, the people of the United States should not overlook the fact that the money which has come across the ocean so readily can and very likely will depart with astounding rapidity.

Owners of idle capital are always in search for the most promising places for investment. At the close of the war this country will be the richest nation in the world and will possess the largest amount of liquid capital. With the war at an end and with war orders discontinued, the capital now engaged in the production of commodities needed by the nations at war, will seek new lines of activity. The important problem for the industries of the United States is whether this capital will continue to be employed in this country or will be sent elsewhere for the establishment and maintenance of industrial enterprise.

Experience has shown that cost of production of manufactured commodities is very materially less in European and Asiatic countries than in this. The tendency of capital will be to go where it can be most profitably employed. In recent years we have seen the Singer Sewing Machine Company establish factories in Canada, the Swift Packing Company establish abattoirs in Argentina, Iowa capitalists operating egg-driving plants in China, and other American capitalists seeking opportunities for foreign investment. Some of the products of establishments thus operated will be shipped from those foreign countries and sold in the United States, the money paid therefor being sent abroad to be expended for wages and materials in foreign countries.

To some extent the movement of American capital to other countries can not be prevented. Neither is such movement undesirable, provided the capital be not employed in industrial enterprises that compete with our own establishments. We can and should, however, insure the largest possible opportunity for active investment of American capital at home by restoring and maintaining a protective tariff which will give the American producer an advantage in the home market to an extent at least commensurate with the increased cost of production, and also give the American producer the advantage in export trade which will result from a decreased unit cost of production incident to the increased quantity of production.

WARNING AGAINST PATERNALISM

When patriotism is most deeply stirred and national dangers impend, ambition has its greatest opportunities and liberty is most in danger. When all the thoughts of the people are concentrated upon dangers from without, they lose sight of dangers from within. With out in any way minimizing the importance of an aroused patriotism, words of caution are necessary in order to guard against movements which are a menace to popular government.

In these days when there is talk of probable war, there are many especially those in high official position, who suggest that the government take over the ownership or operation of various private enterprises with which the government would have to deal in case war should occur. Undoubtedly many of these suggestions are prompted by high motives. Men in position of power are not to flatter themselves that however lacking they may be in business experience, yet as the heads of government departments or bureaus, they have by some miraculous process acquired superior ability in the management of great industrial concerns. With judgment distorted, and with vision extending only to immediate problems, they would plunge the governments into undertakings with little regard for future consequences.

Unless the popular voice exerts a restraining influence, it is evident that an outbreak of war would plunge this country into a movement toward government ownership of this country into a movement toward government ownership which cessation of war could not terminate. The result would be that when the armies enlisted for war had been discharged we would find in the government service a vast army of civil employees under the command of the executive departments and yielding a power which only the alertness and constant effort of the rest of the people could hold in control. We would find the government in competition with private enterprise, necessarily to the disadvantage of private enterprise. We would find the people of the country looking to the government to supply all their needs. We would find individual initiative discouraged and progress greatly retarded.

Unless these results are desired, the American people should utter a vigorous protest against every step in the direction of government ownership of enterprises not absolutely necessary to the exercise of the essential functions of government.

AFTER WAR COMPETITION

In an address to 400 members of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, admitted that regenerated Europe will give the United States more trouble in business competition after the war than it ever has in the past. More efficiency, he said, must come from abroad. To meet this the United States must have more efficiency at home. He added:

Waste is our greatest problem in America. Our annual waste is more than our total pay roll each year. It is a far more serious question than the tariff. The tariff will be raised if needed, but far more serious than the tariff is the ignorance of the boy and girl about work. Far more serious than the tariff problem is the lack of scientific training.

Unfortunately the government cannot guarantee the scientific training of each individual in the United States. This must be a gradual process. The government can, however, take the same step for the protection of American industry that foreign nations are taking for the protection of their industry. Since it is generally recognized, as Mr. Redfield says, that reorganized Europe will give the United States more trouble in business competition than it has in the past, why should the steps for the protection of the American market be delayed until after the war?—Washington Post.

SENATE DEBATES POSTAGE RATES

Washington, February 12—Several hours of debate today on the provisions in the postoffice appropriation bill to increase the rates on second-class mail, including newspapers and magazines, and to reduce to 1 cent the rate of drop letters, failed to bring the Senate to a vote on the motion of Senator Bryan to suspend the rule against legislation on an appropriation bill.

Suspension of the rules requires a two-third vote, but friends of the amendment expected to rally enough support to do it, their hope being based largely on the known desire of some Senators to have an opportunity to vote separately on the various changes proposed.

Senator Bryan, for the Postoffice Committee, said the increase would mean only about $5,000,000 next year in added revenue from the newspapers and magazines, and insisted it was unfair that the Government continue to give what he called an "enormous subsidy" to the newspapers and magazines and not reduce the cost of letter postage, which now furnishes about three-fourths of the postal revenues.

Senator Hoke Smith declared his information showed that it does not cost the Government much, if any, more than 1 cent per pound to carry newspapers, and that the cost of delivering and handling at the points of origin is practically nothing compared with the cost of similar service for magazines.

Senator Oliver, a newspaper publisher, indicated he would not vote on the proposal, but said he thought the rate on second-class matter should be raised, though the present was not the most opportune time in the view of the increased cost of paper.

CAMP FIRES OF VILLA TROOPS FLARE ACROSS AMERICAN LINE

Columbus, N. M., February 12—Villa troops camped tonight within cannon range of American territory, their camp fires at Palomas, six miles south of the border, being visible to American soldiers patrolling the international lines below here. Cowboys reported there were thirty armed and mounted men in the band, which probably was the one which yesterday occupied Twin Windmills. When American military officers learned of the presence of the bandits near the border, cavalry was sent to reinforce the patrol with orders to be unusually vigilant. Refugees arriving from the interior said Jose Ynez Salazar last Thursday occupied Ascension, where he obtained thirty-four recruits.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

$100,000 SOUGHT FOR FEDERAL INVESTIGATION OF FOOD PRICES

Washington, February 12—Approval of a $400,000 appropriation will be asked of President Wilson by the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Agriculture for the food price investigation they are about to start at his direction. The inquiry will be begun as soon as the money is available and a plan of organization is worked out. It will go deeply into charges of price manipulation and restraint of trade in violation of the anti-trust laws. At least six months will be required, it was said today, before any sort of a report can be made and a year is the estimate of the period necessary for a complete inquiry.

Endeavors on this Wednesday night
To entertain her friends at tea
So at the Opera House—pray be You'll meet there some old friends I'm sure

To win you back with laughter's lure Reminding you of days gone by,
Of laughs with "Dickens" or a cry

With "Sairey Gamp" whose nose is red
Or "Betsy Prig" her stately friend
Oh! funny folks without an end.
Dora Copperfield with little "Jip," Sweet "Agnes" too, her tea will sip.

Then "Jenny Wren" with golden hair
Expects your sympathy to share
And many other friends of yore

And bid us now renew the past
Are at the books that always last.
Then come to Betsy Trotwood's Tea
You'll laugh and clap most heartily.

SUCH LANGWIDGE!

(Philadelphia Ledger)
I asked an Italian who speaks correct English which language his children learned to write more readily, Italian or English.

"Italian," said he. "Your English words don't sound the way they look." To show that this poor man had in mind I shall quote some suggestions given to me by one of the most famous scholars, philosophers and professional men in America. They show what a curlicue language English is:

If daughter equals dawter and slaughter equals shawter, why does not laughter equal lawter.

Put it vice versa, and if laughter is lafter, why is not daughter dafter and slaughter slafter?

Enough is enuff, but cough is not cuff. However, if cough is cawf, shouldn't enuff be enawf?

Plough is pronounced plow and bough is bow, but cough is not cow.

Moreover, a little Italian knowing that cough is pronounced coff, is liable to spell the cup of morning beverage cough-ffee.

ENGLAND SENDS THANKS TO U. S. AMERICAN CARE OF BRITISH INTEREST IN GERMANY APPRECIATED.

London, February 12.—A. J. Balfour, secretary for foreign affairs, in a note to the American Ambassador at London, Walter Hines Page, requests him to convey the thanks of the British government for the action taken in transferring British interests in Germany to the Netherlands minister in Berlin, and adds:

"I desire to take this opportunity of expressing his majesty's government's deep appreciation of the care and devotion with which the United States Government has taken charge of British interests in Germany since the outbreak of the war. His majesty's government is fully conscious of the immense amount of work which the care of the British interests necessarily entails upon the staffs of the United States embassy in London and Berlin. They feel they can not value too highly the promptitude and efficiency with which the work was invariably performed and the unflinching tact and courtesy shown by the members of your excellency's staff in dealing with the care of German interests in this country.

"His Majesty's government is especially grateful for all that has been done by the United States diplomatic and consular officers in Germany for British prisoners of war. There can be no doubt that their efforts have been the direct cause of considerable improvement in the treatment of British prisoners, while the machinery devised for their relief has as far as possible ameliorated the lot of those English subjects, who, though not interned, have for various reasons been unable to leave Germany."

PIPING OIL TO SHIPS AT SEA

Great oil regions lie to the west of Tuxpan, which Mexican city, in consequence, has become a most convenient point for exporting oil. However, there are neither docking nor harbor facilities because of the immense sandbar which effectively prevents ocean-going vessels from approaching the city much nearer than a mile.

To overcome this difficulty, notes the Popular Science Monthly, the oil companies devised a novel method of loading oil. Long pipe lines were run out under the sea and over the sandbar. To the outer ends of these lines flexible joints were attached. Nipples on the upturned ends of the elbow joints were provided for the attachment of rubber or other hose, leading from the pipe lines to the surface, their position being plainly indicated by large buoys.

In loading oil vessels simply ride at anchor in the open roadstead, pick up one of the buoys with hose attached, signal a pumping plant on shore and take on oil at the rate of 1,700 barrels an hour.

OUR GOVERNMENT A PERFECT STRUCTURE

The belief is ventured by Thomas W. Shelton, in the Case and Comment, that the greatest merit of the scheme of the American Republic is its ready response in every part to the actual and ever-changing needs of men. No other could have withstood a little over a century's increase in population of nearly a hundred million people, and a corresponding increase in wealth, commerce, industry and temperamental changes, if not successful revolution. Its elasticity without the sacrifice of organic strength is its featural virtue. Said Dr. David Jayne Hill: "Instead of receiving from the philosopher's study, or a transcendental source claiming divine authority, or from the throne of a Caesar, it is accepted as a necessity arising from the nature and social needs of men." This means individual sacrifice and individual participation. "Isolation," says Dr. Hill, "means death, and his whole existence depends upon a living relation to this human environment."

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman could have Vinol, for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good as that I spent for Vinol. WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Quinn's Experience Ought to Help You Over the Critical Period.

Lowell, Mass.—"For the last three years I have been troubled with the Change of Life and the bad feelings common at that time. I was in a very nervous condition, with headaches and pain a good deal of the time so I was unfit to do my work. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it has helped me in every way. I am not nearly so nervous, no headaches or pain. I must say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best remedy any sick woman can take."

BERLIN DENIES PEACE OVER-TURE

Berlin, February 13, (via London)—It is absolutely denied here that Germany in a note to the United States or through the medium is inviting suggestions for the avoidance of actual war. It is believed that the Imperial Government is not permitting doubts in any quarter regarding the position actively assumed in the U-boat warfare and that there can be no talk or thought of recession from the program already being carried out.

In view of this, it is declared in authoritative circles, that any further parley of exchange of notes with the United States may be dismissed as unwarranted and improbable.

The origin of the report is ascribed to the recent announcement made through the Swiss government that Germany was willing to negotiate respecting the amended treaty of 1799.

MARKET BETTER

Yesterday But the Receipts For the Day Were Very Small—Less Than 200,000 Pounds of Tobacco Sold.

The Maysville Market yesterday made a better showing than it has for the past week, a total of 182,085 pounds of tobacco being sold at prices ranging from $8.75 to $34 per hundred pounds. The average for the day was well over $17.50 per hundred pounds, showing that the market is slowly picking up.

The growers have found conditions for marketing in the past week very unfavorable. The continued cold spell has had its effect on the sales of the market. The offerings have been in the main common. SCORED A HIT

John Vogel's Big Minstrels Greatly Pleased a Large Audience—Some Splendid Singers With Company.

Another demonstration was had last night that Maysville people like a show and more particularly a minstrel. John W. Vogel's minstrel was the attraction of the evening and he certainly drew a large crowd. Almost every seat in the house was taken.

The minstrel was the best Vogel has ever shown in this city. Mr. Vogel's idea of combining minstrelsy with a half a dozen other kinds of entertainment. No part of the evening's entertainment was in the least dull and all was appreciated greatly by the audience.

The first part was a combination of minstrelsy and opera. Perhaps the greatest hit of the first part was a male quartet. The finale of the first part was a potpourri of opera selections, ably sung by the entire company.

The stars of the evening were Arthur Deming and Tommy Donnelly, the stars of the burned cork. From the moment they pranced on the stage they were the leaders of the show. During the olio Deming gave a ten minute monologue and was compelled to return, so vociferous was the applause. Donnelly made a hit as Pete Hotfoot, a new recruit, in a short comedy sketch, "On to Chihuahua." He was ably supported by a star cast. It was interesting to note that he killed Villa, for which Wilson should be very glad.

Taken in all it was one of the best minstrels that has been seen in this city for some time and it deserves to make a hit wherever it goes.
